TEDx

TEDxYouth@ JPIS was indeed a revolutionary movement devoted to bringing ideas worth spreading. The event had an array of influential speakers from all over the world.

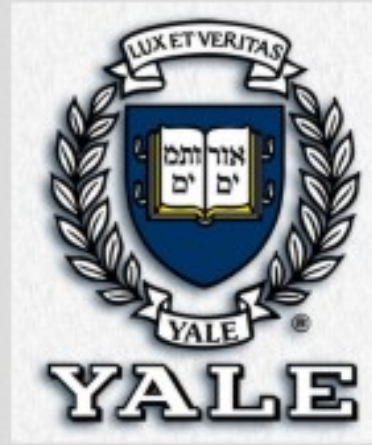

KAHAANI

The Kahaani festival was a smashing hit, enchanting and empowering the audience by exploring a world of story telling. It explores multitude of narratives from round the country and offered a plethora of themes in the form of art to nurture the curiosity and bridge the gaps of story telling in the form of narration, writing and illustration.

ANNUAL DAY

This Annual Day, JPites paid a tribute to the soldiers, and to the fighters we owe our freedom to. Along with the symphony of the orchestra, the melody of the music and the zest of the dances, adding on to the magnificence of the impactful event. The event was graced by Lt. Gen. Sarath Chand, film actor Ashish Vidhyarthi and cultural activist Sandeep Bhutoria.

The counseling given at the school went well beyond what was required - the personal attention given to each student was remarkable and the extra hours put in by the counsellors helped and motivated to work extra hard and attain our goals. It is the sole reason why I am able to go to such a prestigious university as CMU.

Ayush sir hasn't just been a college counselor, but someone who has constantly stimulated me to discover myself. From dubiety of taking the SAT's again to choosing between Georgia Tech and Berkeley, he has advised me extensively. It was an emotional rollercoaster, but all the hardwork and countless days in his office was definitely worth it. I owe this success to him.
Thank you, sir.

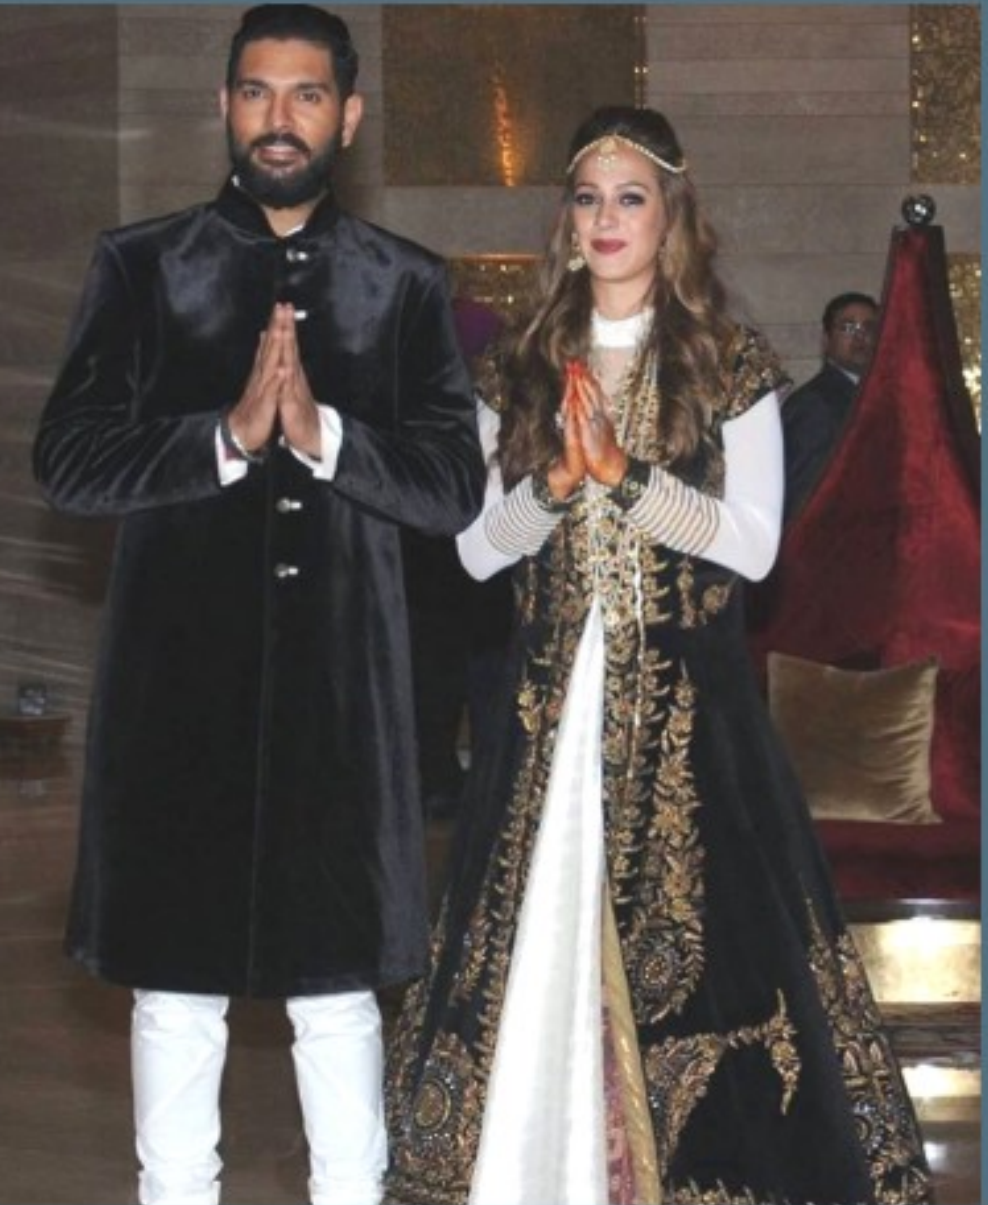

Paridhi Jaipuria

As Lakme Fashion Week is one of the best platforms in India for an emerging designer to showcase their talent, I am quite grateful for this opportunity. LFW for sure is going to mark as a building block to making my career and getting the most creative exposure in the country. And as far as being a fashion designer is concerned, I guess it's the whole process where you just get a small idea, you work on it and bring it to life is very exhilarating. Working with Tarun Tahiliani sure was an exhilarating moment for me as along with designing, punctuality and discipline is something that I learnt from him personally. And remember, when you get stuck creatively, have a cup of Coffee or sometimes a couple of glasses of wine. Also, in this industry, it's all about getting the right inspiration and setting your priorities straight. And remember, at the end all you need to do is push yourself top the limit and you never know when you're on this side, sharing your story with the world.

Jewellery by Astha Jagwani

Our over-achieving alum, Astha Jagwani takes the jewelry world by storm as she never fails to glam up the stunning celebrities that come her way. While creating waves with her breathtaking jewelry across India, she designed the jewelry for Hazel Keech and Yuvraj Singh's wedding. And having recently. received a major shout-out by the gorgeous VJ Anusha Dandekar and Chitrangda Singh, to name a few. We're constantly inspired by you!
